At last, Ambaari rolls out

Two 40-seater buses, 3 trips but only 14 people travel on the double-deckers' maiden journey

The tourists and localites, aboard Ambaari double-decker bus, enjoying the heritage ride in Mysuru this morning.

Mysuru, Sept. 4 (RK&AK)- Ambaari (double-decker open-top hop-on and hop-off buses), Karnataka State Tourism Development Corporation's (KSTDC) tourist attraction to Mysuru, which faced many hurdles over COVID-19 since last year, hit the roads this morning, inviting attention and photographic moments from passers-by.

Though the response was lukewarm, people, who took the bus, exclaimed in joy, "better late than never" as the buses reached many heritage sites that dot the city. The open roof-top-seater bus provided an opportunity for tourists to experience first-hand why Mysuru is called the Heritage City and Cultural Capital of Karnataka.

The first trip began at around 9.30 am from the KSTDC Office on JLB Road where the Ambaari had just eight passengers including a child (no ticket for the child) and the second trip that commenced around 10 am ferried only two passengers. Later another 4 passengers travelled in the second trip of the first Ambaari bus. In all, there were only 14 passengers who enjoyed the heritage ride till 12 noon today.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

DESIRABLY DESI: Not so very long ago the word 'desi' was often used by us desis as something of less essential worth in comparison with a comparable product or service which was of foreign — preferred pronunciation 'phoren' — provenance. A person who was foreign-returned was deemed by many, if not most, to be somehow possessed of greater and deeper wisdom and knowledge of the world and its ways, and any and all opinions aired by such an individual, on just about any subject under the sun, were accorded greater merit than views which were desi.

If you had the money, or the necessary political connections, you'd opt for any kind of medical treatment abroad rather than within the country, no matter how well-qualified indigenous doctors and surgeons were. Swiss chocolates were a rare treat and a tantalisingly remote indulgence, and much preferred to their equivalents made in India, which were dismissed as being merely desi. Such uncomplimentary comparisons had a basis in fact. In the case of chocolates, for example, foreign chocolates were more chocolatey than the Indian which had a very low content of cocoa, which had to be imported, and were too sugary.

At first gradually, and then with gathering momentum, a remarkable change has taken place. All things desi — from 'Utterly, butterly' chocolates and aloo-tikki burgers to medical care in five-star super-speciality hospitals in metro cities, and the practice of the ancient discipline of yoga — have gained social cachet. Indeed, the very word 'desi' has become a token of approval, as in 'This paneer tikka pizza has a really great desi flavour, yaar!' With English increasingly being replaced by Hinglish, or Hindi English, or Bonglish, Bengali English, or Tamlish, Tamil English, our everyday language has been imparted a mirch-masala desi tang. Today desi can truly be said to represent 'Decidedly Ethnically Smart Individual'. — Jug Suraiya in The Times of India

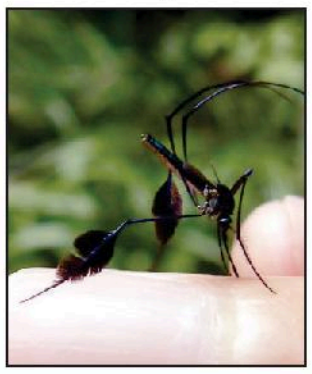
World's most beautiful mosquito



New York: One can think of a few adjectives to describe mosquitoes, but 'beautiful' is definitely not one of them. However, there is one notable exception – Sabethes cyaneus, a tropical breed of mosquito that can certainly be called beautiful and eye-catching.

Found in the tropical forests of Central and South America, the Sabethes mosquito is an elusive breed famous for its iridescent blue colour and feather-like paddles formed by elongated scales, located on the tibia of each middle leg. The two hind legs arching over the body of the mosquito as it is feeding are also impressive and help build the Sabethes' majestic appearance. Marvelling at its beauty is a privilege, as this breed is well-known for being extremely skittish and difficult to photograph well.

Two-headed snake turns 'sweet 16' today

Missouri: A Missouri nature centre is throwing a "sweet 16" birthday party for one of its most unusual resident animals: a two-headed snake.

The Cape Girardeau Conservation Nature Centre said that the female black rat snake, which has two heads with fully functional brains, will turned 16 today (Saturday) and visitors were invited to join the celebration. "Having two heads or being conjoined twins as they are happens in nature, happens in any kind of species," said Jamie Koehler, Assistant Manager of the Cape Girardeau Conservation Nature Centre. The birthday party, featured crafts, games and cake for visitors besides offering visitors an opportunity to learn more about snakes.

Koehler said the event will also offer an opportunity to learn more about the species.

Stationery is now stationary: Some thoughts

Sir,

This refers to the write-up titled "City's booming stationery business now stationary" (Star of Mysore dated Sept. 2).

A stationery store situated near my residence has on its name-board spelt 'stationery' as 'stationary.' When I had pointed out this spelling mistake to the person running the establishment years ago he brushed aside my pointing out the mistake and said that there was nothing wrong in the spelling.

At that time I also thought that he was perhaps right in the sense that the shop was 'stationary' and not mobile. Nobody had imagined at that time that years later the world would one day be afflicted by a deadly virus named Coronavirus which would leave millions dead and deprive millions others of their livelihoods.

The owner of the stationery shop perhaps had the prescience to predict that the stationery business would one day become stationary and had appropriately used the word stationary!

This also reveals the beauty of the English language where the change of a single letter could drastically change the meaning but also the lives of the people.

'KSOU will become bankrupt if indiscreet spending continues'

Mysuru, Sept.4 (PM&DM)- Accusing KSOU (Karnataka State Open University) of burning out the resources by illegal appointments and construction of buildings, former KSOU Vice-Chancellor Prof. N.S. Ramegowda maintained that the University will go bankrupt in five years if indiscreet spending is not checked.

Prof. Ramegowda

Addressing a press meet at Patrakarthara Bhavan here recently, he launched a tirade against the KSOU authorities for spending huge money in the name of Silver Jubilee celebrations. Maintaining that KSOU's annual revenues stood at Rs. 6 to Rs. 8 crore, he said that the University was spending a whopping Rs.40 crore by utilising reserve funds.

Questioning KSOU's moves to issue Convocation Certificates to 77,000 students enrolled (2012-13) in collaborative Institutions, which however was dropped after the UGC's intervention, he warned of filing a PIL in the Court if the Open University went ahead with its spending spree.

Former KSOU Dean Prof. Chambi Puranik, who also addressed the press meet, expressed concern that the University may have to shut down for want of funds if the expenditure continued unhindered.

Karnataka Rajya Hindulida Vargagala Jagrutha Vedike President K.S. Shivaramu, who is also a former KSOU Board Member, was present.

MYOCARDIAL INFARCTION (HEART ATTACK)
Myocardial Infarction means occlusion of one of the three major blood vessels (coronary arteries) either partial or complete, resulting in significantly decreased blood supply to muscles of the heart. Clinically present with chest pain (Angina) chest discomfort, heaviness in the chest, aggravates on exertion and relieves with rest. Occasionally, giddiness or syncopial episodes. Presentation at the early age of patients has RISK FACTORS like Diabetes Mellitus, Hypertension, Dyslipidemia, Stress etc. ECG, Echocardiography, blood tests confirm a heart attack. The ideal option is 'PRIMARY ANGIOPLASTY' (Opening of an occluded heart blood vessel) at the earliest to save the heart muscle from an irreversible damage "FIRST HOUR IS THE 'GOLDEN HOUR" because "TIME IS MUSCLE". Early intervention will save heart muscle from permanent damage (Muscle death-INFARACT). Early intervention helps in the significant reduction of complications like arrythmias, heart failure by preserving a good amount of Heart Muscle. Age is not a criterion since the change of lifestyle, high calories diet, sedentary habits, stress and lack of exercise reduces the age of VASCULOPATHY.

Yet another rape case rocks city

- Victim sexually assaulted, slashed with knife
- Accused arrested a few hours after crime

Mysuru, Sept. 4 (SBD&BCT)- Close on the heels of the gang rape incident reported at Chamundi foothill where an MBA student was sexually assaulted on Aug. 24, another case of sexual assault of a girl was reported in the city yesterday (Sept. 3).

The Police, who swung into action immediately, managed to arrest the accused, known to the victim, within hours of the complaint being lodged. Police suspect personal revenge to be the motive behind the incident.

The incident was reported at a girl's hostel in R.S. Naidu Nagar where the student was staying and pursuing her education.

The accused entered her hostel premises in Narasimharaja Police Station limits in the afternoon when the victim was alone while her friends had gone out.

The accused sexually assaulted her and also slashed the victim's hand with a knife. The incident came to light when the friends of the victim returned to the hostel. She was admitted to a private hospital. An FIR has been registered and investigation is underway at Narasimharaja (NR) Police Station.

Soon after the complaint, Police teams swung into action along with the dog squad and fingerprint experts and searched the entry and exit points to the hostel for more than three hours. Based on the clues, the accused was arrested.

Deputy Commissioner of Police (Law and Order) Pradeep Gunti led the investigation team along with DCP (Crime and Traffic) Geetha Prasanna and Narasimharaja Inspector Azaruddin.

Reacting to the incident, City Police Commissioner Dr. Chandragupta, who was in Bengaluru to attend the Dasara high-level meeting with the Chief Minister, told reporters in Bengaluru that the accused and the victim were known to each other and the accused has been arrested.

DCP Pradeep Gunti said a case under Section 376 (rape) of the IPC has been registered and it is yet to be ascertained whether it is a case of rape or an attempt to rape and teams are waiting for the victim's statement and medical report.

The incident, however, sent shockwaves among residents of Mysuru who are worried about the safety of women in the wake of a series of crimes. Though the Police have taken security seriously and following a nudge from the Director General and Inspector General of Police (DG&IGP) Praveen Sood, have deployed more patrolling teams along secluded spots, still people are not confident as cases of alleged rapes are being reported even under broad daylight.

Yesterday at the R.S. Naidu Nagar hostel where the latest incident was reported, curious people climbed on their terraces to see the Police searching the area for clues. Traffic on the Ring Road was diverted and motorists talked among themselves about increasing crimes. Though the arrest of the accused came hours later, there is fear among people.

Vidyaranyapuram Jewellery Shop Dacoity Case

Two-kg gold looted; lion's share with ninth accused

Nicknamed 'Budda', Mumbai elderly man has 40-year criminal history

By S.T. Ravikumar

Mysuru, Sept. 4- Over 2 kgs of gold ornaments were looted from Amruth Gold and Silver Palace at Vidyaranyapuram and the lion's share has been taken from an elderly gangster, the ninth accused in the case, nicknamed 'Budda' which literally means old man as he is above 60 years of age. The daring dacoity and shootout incident where an innocent bystander was killed occurred on Aug. 23 evening and all but one accused have been arrested.

Budda is above 60 and he pocketed most of the gold including ornaments like gold chains, necklaces, bracelets and heavy rings. He has been captured filling the gold into his shirt and trouser pockets. Though the other seven too stole gold, they could not take away as much as this old man had taken. While eight accused shared 1 kg of gold, this man took away 1 kg.

Another accused in the case is Mahendra, the mastermind, who owns Balaji Bankers and Jewellers near Mahadevapura Railway Gate. He invited the gangsters, some of them who are contract killers, to loot the 'Amruth Gold and Silver Palace' in Vidyaranyapuram remains closed since the dacoity and shootout incident took place on Aug. 23.

Vidyaranyapuram shop. From conceptualising, planning and execution of the crime, Mahendra played a crucial role and he has been put behind bars now.

After the chase that involved Police teams travelling to eight States, the Police have zeroed-in on Budda's location to be in Mumbai. He has been the resident of the Mumbai Metropolitan since many years and according to his tower location, he is holed up in a thickly populated area and searching for him is proving a daunting task to the Police.

Has 40 years of criminal history

A Police team has left for Mumbai on Aug. 25 itself in search of this elderly criminal and are closely coordinating with Mumbai Police to nab him. Mumbai Police have told Mysuru Police that Budda (not his real name) took to crime at a young age of 20 and he is an expert in stealing gold ornaments and disposing of them without even a trace.

He has been jailed more than nine times and he has diligently continued his criminal activities even after coming out on bail and after completing his jail term. He has over 40 years of experience in the loots and dacoities.

Excluding the mastermind Mahendra, all the other accused persons are Budda's friends who became close in the jails.

Jailmate-friend

Inside the jail barracks, they shared information, modus operandi and other details with each other and were planning a major loot after they came out of the prison. Mahendra was facing severe losses in his gold business and had borrowed loans to the tune of lakhs of rupees.

He knew that Amruth Gold and Silver Palace was doing good business and planned the heist. Along with mounting losses, business rivalry too played an important role in the planning and execution of the dacoity. Mahendra came into contact with the criminals and contract killers in jail where he stayed for some months in a cheating case.

After gaining their trust, he got their contact numbers and entered into an agreement with them to zero-in on a gold store and divide the loot among them. He planned the dacoity and hoped to clear at least some of his debts.

After the eight dacoits including Mahendra were arrested, the Police managed to recover 1 kg of gold but the major part of the loot still remains with Budda, who is still at large.

Scaled-down Dasara this year too

Bengaluru, Sept.4 (KMS&DM)- Bringing curtains down on the uncertainty of the nature of Dasara this year amidst the COVID-19 crisis, the State Government on Friday said that the world famous Dasara festival (Oct.7-15), popularly known as 'Naada Habba', will be celebrated in a simple yet traditional manner in the wake of the pandemic.

Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai, who presided over a meeting of High-level Committee at the Banquet Hall of Vidhana Soudha here yesterday, said the Committee unanimously resolved to celebrate the festival in a simple and symbolic manner.

Mysuru District Minister S.T. Somashekar and Urban Development Minister Byrathi Basavaraj presenting the Dasara-2021 proposal to Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai during the meeting in Bengaluru yesterday.

Rs.6 crore grants

Pointing out that Rs.6 crore will be released for holding the festivities in Mysuru, Srirangapatna and Chamarajanagar, Bommai said that all traditional events including the inauguration of 'Naada Habba' atop Chamundi Hill, will be held in accordance with Government SOPs and adherence to COVID appropriate behaviour.

Stating that the 'Jumboo Savari' (procession of caparisoned elephants) would be restricted to Palace premises just like last year, the CM said that based on the COVID-19 situation, the number of people to be present at the inauguration, cultural events and 'Jumboo Savari' in Palace premises would be decided after Sept.20.

Last year, 150, 50 and 300 people were allowed to attend inaugural, cultural events and 'Jumboo Savari' procession.

Tourism circuit

Noting that Rs.8 crore was released towards dues of last year's Dasara events, Bommai said that the State Government, in order to give a big push to tourism, has planned a tourism circuit covering Mysuru, Hassan and Chamarajanagar districts.

Minister for Energy, Kannada and Culture Sunil Kumar said that illumination would be made in Mysuru during the festival. Pointing out that it has been planned to illuminate a total of 45-km length of streets and Circles, he said that last time around 30-km roads were illuminated.

The Committee empowered CM Bommai to decide on the dignitary for the inauguration of the event. As local small businesses, including hotels and other commercial activities have been hugely affected by the pandemic, the meeting discussed ways and means to revive local business.

Co-operation Minister S.T. Somashekar, who is also Mysuru District Minister, Urban Development Minister Byrathi Basavaraj and other officials took part in the meeting.

EPFO recruitment exam: Ban orders around exam centre tomorrow

Mysuru, Sept.4- With the exam for recruitment of Enforcement Officers/Accounts Officers in Employees Provident Fund Organisation (EPFO) scheduled to take place at Maharani's PU College on N.S. Road in the city tomorrow (Sept.5), the city Police have enforced prohibitory orders under Section 144 CrPC in 200 mt. radius around the centre from 6 am to 6 pm tomorrow.

Accordingly, no unauthorised persons will be allowed to move around the centre and all photocopy shops in the vicinity of the Centre have been ordered to shut down for the day.

Outsiders are coming

The recent incident of gang rape and armed robbery has triggered a new topic of conversation in Mysuru, a conversation that was for the most part limited to Bengaluru — the "outsider" problem.

On hearing the news about rape and armed robbery, many Mysureans said it could not have been committed by Mysureans. Two common assumptions were — "Mysureans don't have the guts to commit such a heinous crime" and "Mysureans don't have such a violent mindset." These assumptions are not true.

We do have a record of heinous crimes being committed by locals, but for the most part, they are connected to their line of business — a real estate deal gone wrong, a drunken brawl, political rivalry, debt collection etc. It never really affected the common man. But now the random act of violence by criminals from outside States on innocent citizens has triggered a fear of the "outsider."

Fearing outsiders or being wary of them is one of our oldest, built-in psychological tendencies. In pre-historic times, this distrust may have made us vigilant and kept our communities safe but in modern times this ingrained fear leads to bigotry and a disharmonious society.

As for Mysuru, whether we like it or not folks, the outsiders are coming and they will come steadily over the next decade.

As our airport functions regularly, the 10-lane highway opens and with more trains coming in, we are becoming a well-connected city, with that we become a 'welcoming city' — Welcoming industries and employees from all over the country.

According to the 2011 census, 48 percent of Mysuru's population was migrant. Back then, our population was 9.2 lakh of which 4.5 lakh people claimed to be migrants. Of this, 90% were migrants from other parts of Karnataka and only 10% came from other States. Now it must be much more.

When there is development, immigration follows, this is the inevitable reality of modern cities. Cities grow, industries come and then the chain reaction begins — employees follow, construction activities start, labourers come, slums form, traffic increases, so also pollution, and then crime.

But before we feel good old Mysuru is doomed and feel gloom, there is hope, only if the Government is prepared for this urban onslaught. On the bright side, it is an opportunity to make Mysuru a well-planned modern city.

The Government should have a Comprehensive Development Plan for Mysuru in the next year. Yes, there is one, but it needs much reworking. The Government can have an expert panel that can take some sound decisions to make our city livable and sustainable such as not blindly allowing any type of industry into the city. Choose ones that don't pollute and hurt our image as a clean city or damage heritage structures.

Or make building laws that allow more floors so the city grows vertically which means less financial and structural burden to the City Corporation when it comes to providing electricity, water and drainage. Of course, all this away from important heritage structures in the heart of the city like it's done in Paris and other heritage-rich cities.

Also Mysuru City Corporation could be split up, one for North Mysuru and another for South Mysuru.

Most important, prepare the Slum Board to be more effective. More construction activities means more labourers from all over the country, which means they'll pitch a tent in public spaces meant for parks and other public services.

Finally, Mysuru will need a bigger Police force. A more responsible, stringent and accountable Police because there are going to be political conflicts.

As immigrants come they tend to congregate, live and thrive in one area. After a while, once they have the numbers, they won't elect a local Kannadiga leader anymore, it could be a Tamil leader in a Tamil-dominated Ward or a Bihari leader in a Ward dominated with immigrants from that State. This will lead to unrest, unless you have a strong law and order protocol in place.

Immigrants can be seen in a negative light as ushering in over-population, pollution and dilution of local culture. Also temporary migrant workers and non-local industries don't have a sense of belonging to the city so they don't care how they treat the city. And they usually treat it badly. But then, if it is handled well immigrants can enrich a city. There will be new cuisines and a more culturally diverse city with new art forms and artists.

Of course, steadily but surely you will hear more Hindi and other languages rather than Kannada. And yes, it will make an "original" Mysurean feel like an outsider in his own city. But this is only natural. While it is up to the Government to manage infrastructure and law & order issues, it is up to the people to find a way to live in harmony and the first aspect of it is language.

The first point of friction between a local and an outsider in India is language. Since our States were created with language as their basis, each State is very proud and protective of its language, so also Karnataka.

So, non-Kannada speakers, looking to settle down in Karnataka, will make life easy for themselves. Knowledge of the local language will help one integrate into the community, else they will always remain "outsiders."

Also learning the local language is a way of showing respect to the State, which endears one to the people of the State.

More importantly, the local language has an unmatched emotional and communicative value. That is why, Nelson Mandela said, "If you talk to a man in a language he understands, it goes to his head. But if you talk to him in his language, it goes to his heart." So let us hope Mysuru gets immigrants who can integrate into the hearts of Mysureans.

As the trip began, a vehicle with a ladder belonging to the Mysuru City Corporation went along where the staff ensured that there were no obstacles like tree branches and dangling cables on the route.

Months back, the Chamundeshwari Electricity Supply Corporation (CESC) relocated overhead electricity lines that were obstructing the free movement of the bus on the designated route. The KSTDC had requested the CESC to shift the transmission lines besides urging the Forest Department and the MCC to prune tree branches along the route to facilitate unhindered movement. As such, today's inaugural run was glitch-free.

Heritage view

The trips started from KSTDC Office (Hotel Mayura Hoysala) on JLB Road and covered Deputy Commissioner's Office, Kukkarahalli Lake, Crawford Hall, Ramaswamy Circle, Sanskrit Pathashala, K.R. Circle, Dodda Gadiyara (Silver Jubilee Clock Tower), Palace South Gate, Hardinge Circle, Mysuru Zoo, Karanji Lake, Government Guest House, St. Philomena's Church, Government Ayurveda College Circle, Railway Station Circle and culminated at Hotel Mayura Hoysala.

During the tour, tourists enjoyed the view of the heritage city along with an audio guide that explained the history of each heritage building when the bus reached the tourist sites identified on the route. The audio is available in two languages now — Kannada and English — and the KSTDC has plans to add a couple of foreign languages later.

Successful first trip

Each bus is scheduled to have four trips a day and the duration of one trip will be two hours.

The bus successfully completed its first trip that commenced at 9.30 am and returned at around 12 noon. All passengers enjoyed the view of the city by taking selfies and clicking photographs. Each passenger was charged Rs. 250 for the ride.

The State Government has lifted weekend curfew from Mysuru as COVID cases have declined and also following demand from hotel and hospitality sector to relax curbs.

KSTDC is hoping that more tourists will visit the city in the coming days. The body wrapping of Ambaari has been done based on the State's art forms, culture and diversity, wildlife, and tourist destinations.

Need more publicity

N. Ramachandra of Mysuru, who went on the first trip along with family, shared his experience with Star of Mysore where he said, "We have come here to explore the beauty of Mysuru. More focus on tourism is needed as the tourism industry is affected hard. Riding on Ambaari gives the flavour of culture and heritage."

"We had the minimum knowledge about the heritage buildings and their histories. The audio guide is informative. As passengers were less, this initiative needs more publicity. The ticket price is also affordable," he added.

Sources from KSTDC said that the number of people visiting to experience the ride is increasing. As more tourists are expected in the afternoon, the number of trips will be increased accordingly. Overall, the first day was satisfying and we are expecting more tourists in the later days.

Those interested may visit the KSTDC Office on JLB Road. There is no advance booking or online booking facility. Tickets are available on-the-spot. For details, contact Ph: 0821-2423652.

Polling booth No.376 saw the highest number of votes cast (881 votes), while booth No.377 recorded the lowest (351 votes).

Sri Shivarathri Rajendra Kayaka Awardees

Mysuru, Sept. 4 (PM&DM)- As part of the 106th Jayanti of Dr. Sri Shivarathri Rajendra Mahaswamiji, Sri Shivarathri Rajendra Kayaka Award was conferred on achievers at a programme organised jointly by Kannada Sahitya Kalakoota and Karnataka Rajya Hindulida Vargagala Jagrutha Vedike, at Patrakarthara Bhavan here on Monday.

Speaking after conferring the award on six achievers, MLA S.A. Ramdas said that Sri Shivarathri Rajendra Swamiji had done all that was needed for the well-being of humanity through his exemplary work and service.

Pointing out that such a great Swamiji is remembered through the conferment of Kayaka Award named after him, he said that those who work hard speak less, as it their work and services which speak for them.

Retired Kannada faculty Dr. K. Anantharamu said that the Swamiji was a Kayakayogi in real terms. Maintaining that the Swamiji had five facets — Dharma, Knowledge, Health, Education and Annadasoha — for undertaking Kayaka, he said that it was Rajendra Swamiji's sheer efforts that so many JSS educational institutions came up not only in the country, but across the globe. He termed the Swamiji as 'Yugapurusha' for his selfless and untiring service.

Former MLA M.K. Somashekar, who presided, said that the late Seer made great efforts for introducing Anna-Akshara Dasoha that provided food and education to thousands of children from across the country. He further said that it is Rajendra Swamiji who laid the foundation stone for reforms and social transformation in this region.

The event also saw the current and former K.R. MLAs, who are bitter political opponents, sharing the same platform perhaps for the first time after the 2018 Assembly polls.

Ramdas and Somashekar greeted each other and honoured each other, leaving aside their political rivalry for a moment. The two, after chatting for some time, contended that development and societal work should come first and poll fight later.

Publisher D.N. Lokappa, Agricultural Scientist Dr. Vasanth Kumar Thimakapura, Rohit M. Patil (Industrialist), Dr. Pushpa Iyengar (Social Service), Dr. C. Venkatesh (Public Service) and Dr. B. R. Nataraj Jois (Cultural Patron) were conferred Sri Shivarathri Rajendra Kayaka Award.

Social worker Dr. K. Raghuram, Vedike President K.S. Shivaramu, Kalakoota President M. Chandrashekar, former District Kannada Sahitya Parishat President Maddikere Gopal and others were present.

Chandrashekar, Lingayat Gowda Mahasabha State President Alanahalli Puttaswamy, Prathishtana President Basavarajendra Swamiji and others were present.

Mysuru, Sept.4 (PM&DM)- Vasudeva Maharaj Award given by city-based Brahmeedootha Sri Vasudeva Maharaj Foundation was conferred on four achievers from different fields at a programme held at Patrakarthara Bhavan here recently, marking the 13th Aradhana Mahotsava of Vasudeva Maharaj.

Speaking as the guest of honour, social worker Dr. K. Raghuram said S.N. Vasudevarao (Vasudeva Maharaj), who was born in 1938 and worked as a Financial Officer at Mysore Palace, was a devout devotee of Sai Baba. Though Vasudevarao was a family man, he led a spiritual life till the end and taught Astrology for free to members of the public. Spiritual scholar Somashekar Swamiji, who graced the occasion, said it is not easy to become a recipient of any award. Maintaining that one can get awards and rewards only by hard work and dedication to service, he wished the recipients success in life.

Dr. A.R. Renukaprasad (Medicine), Dr. S. Venkatesh (Social Service) and M. Shivaprakash (Industrialist) were conferred the award on the occasion while the fourth recipient S.V. Venkateshaiah (Yoga) was absent. Medical practitioner Dr. C. Sharath Kumar, former District Kannada Sahitya Parishat President Maddikere Gopal, Congress leader N.M. MLA alleges huge kickback in cloth bag distribution

S.R. Mahesh

Mysuru, Sept. 4 (RKB&DM)- Continuing his tirade against IAS Officer and former Mysuru Deputy Commissioner (DC) Rohini Sindhuri even after three months of her transfer to Bengaluru from Mysuru, K.R. Nagar JD(S) MLA S.R. Mahesh accused Rohini Sindhuri of corruption in the cloth bag distribution scheme as part of plastic-free campaign in Mysuru district when she had served as Mysuru DC.

Addressing a press meet at his office near Ramavilas Road here yesterday, S.R. Mahesh shared details of the alleged corruption in the cloth bag distribution scheme, which had been initiated by Sindhuri earlier this year for distribution of environment-friendly cloth bags as part of making Mysuru district plastic-free.

Maintaining that the IAS Officer had placed an order for 14.71 lakh cloth bags at a price of Rs. 52 a piece, which amounted to Rs. 7.65 crore, meant for distribution to households in all Urban Local Bodies (ULBs) of the district, including Mysuru City Corporation (MCC), the MLA claimed that the cloth bags were actually available for Rs. 13 a piece in the retail market in Mysuru. Under the scheme, every household was to receive two bags — one with a capacity to carry 5 kg and another 10 kg, he said.

Alleging kickback in the scheme, which had led to a loss of more than Rs. 6 crore to the State exchequer, Mahesh contended that the scheme was taken up without bringing the matter to the notice of any ULBs in the district.

Charging Sindhuri of thrusting the scheme upon ULBs without having discussed the proposal in the elected Councils of Local Bodies, he argued that the Local Bodies were now refusing to clear the proposal and give financial approval for making payment to supplied cloth bags. A huge consignment of cloth bags is now stocked in a building in Mysuru, he added.

IAS Officer refutes charge

Rohini Sindhuri

Reacting to the accusation, IAS Officer Rohini Sindhuri denied the charges and said that it was attempt on the part of the MLA to browbeat and scare officers, who dare to inquire into illegalities and irregularities against people representatives and other individuals.

Asserting that the work order for cloth bags distribution scheme was given to State-run Karnataka Handloom Development Corporation (KHDC), she said that the order was placed in compliance with Karnataka Transparency in Public Procurements (KTPP) Act.

Insisting that not a single rupee was paid as kickback during her tenure as Mysuru DC, Sindhuri said that Nanjangud CMC recently made a payment of about Rs. 9.6 lakh to KHDC and is the first ULB to do so. This is the only payment made to KHDC so far in respect of cloth bags procurement, she argued and expressed the hope that the current officials would continue the probe against individuals who are making allegations against her, which are nothing but baseless and unfounded.

Gold chain snatched from teacher

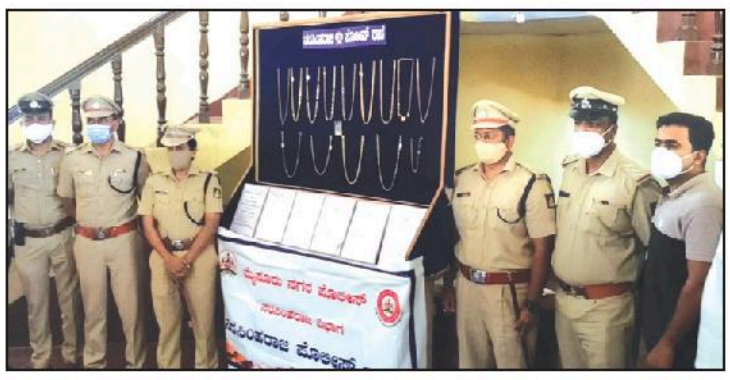
Nanjangud, Sept. 4 (RS&DM)- A teacher was robbed of her gold chain by miscreants at Nanjangud on Friday.

Suma, 52, a teacher by profession and a resident of Srirampura Road in the town, was walking towards her house at 7 pm on Friday evening, when two bike-borne miscreants managed to yank-off her 60-gm gold chain, costing about Rs. 3 lakh and fled in a flash.

Nanjangud Town Police, who have registered a case in this regard, are investigating.

Two chain-snatchers, pawn-broker arrested

Valuables worth Rs. 20.90 lakh seized



Mysuru, Sept. 4 (RK&BCT)- In a major breakthrough, the City Police have arrested two chain-snatchers and have seized gold chains worth Rs. 19,40,000 lakh from them.

Interestingly, the pawn-broker, who had taken the stolen gold and handed over money to the accused, too has been arrested.

The arrested has been identified as Salman Khan alias Sallu, a resident of K.R. Mohalla Hullina Beedhi and Tajuddin alias Mohammad Tajuddin, a resident of Shanthinagar. The pawn-broker is Mohammad Parvez who owns Mariam Jewels on Ashoka Road.

Gold ornaments worth Rs. 19,40,000 including 13 gold chains weighing 388 grams and three two-wheelers worth 1,50,000 have been seized.

On Aug. 23, the chain-snatchers had targeted Pankaja, wife of Nagaraj and a resident of N.R. Mohalla third main road.

She was going to pick her son from St. Matthias School and at Rajendranagar 10th Cross, two bike-borne chain-snatchers pulled her chain near Ajju Water Point. The gold chain weighed 60 grams and was worth Rs. 2,40,000.

Investigating the case, Narasimharaja (NR) Inspector Azaruddin and staff examined CCTV footage of the area and compared them with other similar footage obtained in other recent cases.

They found a pattern in the modus operandi and also the model of the bikes used in the crime. Later on Aug. 26, Salman Khan was rounded off when he was roaming suspiciously near Pushpashram Junction.

Based on the clues provided by Salman during interrogation, the Police went to Mariam Jewels where the accused had pledged the stolen gold chain in lieu of money. The Police picked up store owner Mohammad Parvez. The Police also arrested Salman's partner in crime Tajuddin from Panchavalli Bus Stand near Hunsur on the way to Kodagu.

Further investigation revealed that the accused had snatched the gold chains of 16 women including seven in NR, three in Udayagiri and also in Vidyaranyapuram, V.V. Puram, Nazarbad and Krishnaraja (KR) Police Station limits.

Also, the Police learnt that Salman was also involved in two theft cases in Nazarbad Police limits. The pawn-broker Mohammad Parvez too has many similar cases against him at Pandavapura, Basaralu, Nagamangala and NR Police Stations under IPC Sections 454 (house-trespass or house-breaking) and 380 (theft).

Soon as Chandru stopped his motorcycle, the bike-borne trio assaulted Chandru and robbed him of Rs. 18,000 cash, a gold ring weighing 11.5-gm and his cell phone, before managing to flee along with the loot under the cover of darkness, it is learnt.

The Hunsur Rural Police, who have registered a case following a complaint by Chandru, have begun investigation.

Pronunciation: AH-suh-fye.
Meaning: In science, ossify means "to change into bone." Outside of science, it means "to make or become hardened and opposed to change."
Origin: The skeletons of mammals originate as soft cartilage that gradually transforms into hard bone (in humans, the process begins in the womb and continues until late adolescence). This bone-building process has been called ossification since the late 17th century, and the verb ossify arrived soon after the noun. Both terms have come to refer to figurative types of hardening, such as that of the heart, mind, or soul. The words come from the Latin root os, meaning "bone." Os has also entered English as a synonym of bone in scientific contexts.
Example: "The cultural revolution was the product of Mao's fear, if not paranoia. He worried that the communist party was becoming ossified and selfish careerists were taking over." — Michael Carey, The Alaska Dispatch News, 13 May 2021.

THE ODD WORD

Obluctation

Resistance; opposition.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

On the same page

Meaning: To be thinking in a similar fashion, to have the same amount of knowledge, or to have the same kind of understanding about a situation as others do.
Origin: Though the origin of the idiom 'on the same page' is sometimes attributed to choral singing, when all singers needed to be on the same page, it is much more likely that this term can be attributed to classes and business meetings when copies of a single item are used by all members, and that all need to be reading from the same page in order to understand what is being discussed.
Example: "Before we make any decisions today, I'd like to make sure that everyone is on the same page."

QUOTE BOX

I always turn to the sports pages first, which records people's accomplishments. The front page has nothing but man's failures. —Earl Warren
